HIU HOPE INTERNATIONAL UNIVERSITY

July, 2023

California Education Code requires that all teaching credential candidates demonstrate proficiency in the subject matter area of their intended credential. AB 130, signed into law July 9, 2021, expanded the ways in which candidates may demonstrate subject matter proficiency.

Subject matter proficiency may be demonstrated through one of the following options:

1. Passage of California Subject Examination for Teachers (CSET)
2. Successful completion of degree-applicable coursework (earning a grade of C or higher) at one or more regionally accredited institutions of higher education that addresses each domain of the subject matter requirements outlined by CTC
3. Successful completion of a baccalaureate degree from a regionally accredited institution of higher education
   a. Multiple Subject Candidates: Liberal Studies, Liberal Arts, or Elementary Education undergraduate degree
   b. Single Subject Candidates: EXACT degree/credential subject match in one of the subjects named in Education Code section 44257(a)
   c. Single Subject Candidates: Additional degree options for World Language, Home Economics, Math, Science: Biological Science, Science: Chemistry, Science: Geoscience, Science: Physics, Science: Foundational-Level Science found here
4. Through a combination of methods 1 and 2

Candidates who choose to demonstrate Subject Matter Proficiency through option 2, 3, or 4, must submit a SMR Transcript Evaluation Request Form to Lindsay Blume leblume@hiu.edu. Official transcripts from all institutions must be on file to proceed with the evaluation process. Candidates are advised to thoroughly review listed policies before submission.

Sincerely,

Lindsay Blume, Subject Matter Competency Coordinator

Section 2
Each CSET exam measures a candidate's proficiency in various subject matter domains. Therefore, if a candidate chooses to meet subject matter requirements through successful coursework completion, they must show mastery of each domain. It is the candidate's responsibility to match completed coursework with each subject matter domain outlined for the credential. Using the Domains of the Subject Matter Requirements CTC document, provide matching coursework, with course number, course name, and exact course description from the university catalog for evaluation. When all Subject Matter Domains are addressed, move to Section 3.

Number/Title of Domain	List all courses (course name and number) that apply to the domain.	List Institution where coursework was completed and date of completion.	Copy and paste course description(s) from the university catalog. Coursework completed at Hope International University does not require course description(s). This section may be included as an attachment.
